William Johnson, Sr., was an English gentleman who migrated from England to the American Colonies and settled in South Carolina prior to 1775. He later moved to North Carolina and before 1800, to Warren County, Kentucky. In 1804, he settled in Rutherford County, Tennessee, with Issac Miller, Sr. (whom he had met in Kentucky) and their families. He probably married a Miss Larkin and thus brought that name into the Johnson family. He died in Rutherford County in 1816, leaving a widow, Rebecca Johnson, and nine children. He was called "Colonel" and tradition says that he fought in the Revolutionary War. (p. 141 "The Millers of Millersburg".) DAR Records #A063829. He is listed in the DAR patriot Index - Centennial p. 1612 as being enrolled in Patriotic Service in South Carolina.

Will of "Colonel" William Johnson:

In 1816 the Will of William Johnson recorded in Rutherford County, Tennessee in Record Book 3 page 147. I, William Johnson now being in my right mind and knowing the frailty of my body the uncertainty of life and the certainty of death, I do give and bequeath unto my beloved wife, Rebecca, all her household furniture and working tools, her choice of the house beasts, and her saddle and a good bridle and two of the best cows and calves, and the Negro woman said and the child Leah, and the beds and furniture to them all there are horn during her natural life or second marriage and to her death or second marriage these articles is to be divided as follows - that above named they are to be divided as equal as can be between John Johnson, one Nancy Kuykendall, Edward Johnson, and Mildred Miller, and James Johnson, and William Johnson & Polly Taylor. What remains that I have not made mention of in the righting above, at my death is to be sold and distributed ? is made mention of the above living, and my wife making choice to end her days with her son Larkin Johnson, she is to go to him with all that I have named, to her, and at her death all the property is to go as I have already said. but Sadi and her child is to be his the said Larkin Johnsons own, by paying to Matthew Johnson the sum of one hundred dollars after a reasonable excdedt. This is my last will and testament this 19th day of January, 1816. In 1816 April Term in Rutherford County, Tennessee. I certify the above will was produced in open court, and thereupon Rebecca Johnson widow of said deceased appeared in open court, and being dissatisfied with the said last will of her ? makes known to this court her dissent thereto. Recorded 10th May 1816.

Bond for the Support of the widow Johnson. Know all men by these present that we whose names in her unto subscribed being the heirs and all the heirs of William Johnson, decd. and being of full age acting for ourselves and in with our wives - having seen a paper purporting to be the last will and testament of William Johnson decd. which paper doth not make such provision for Rebecca Johnson, the widow of said decd. as we think a woman of her prudent good company ought to have, and believing it are not such a sham, as said decd intended to give, but from weakness of the body and mind in his late illness was not capable of dividing his property as he wished to do. And our being desirous to do justice to our mother and one another we now agree that ...
