Biography

Dinelah was a daughter of Daniel Huff and (probably) Elizabeth (Turman) Huff. The number and timing of wives for Daniel is uncertain.

Dinelah was established as a daughter of Daniel Huff by the will of Hawkins Quarles "Qualls" Huff, who mentioned his father Daniel Huff of Clinton County, Kentucky in his Livingston County, Missouri will dated 25 Sep 1846, probated 12 Oct 1846. Qualls also indicated a bequest to the children of two of his sisters, named as Rachel Best

Dinelah married Levi Fowler, a son of Dr. Thomas Fowler and Mary "Polly" (Baldrige) Fowler of Parrottsville, Cocke County, Tennessee. No record of the marriage has as yet been located, but the marriage may have occurred in about 1837, possibly in Missouri, Kentucky, or Tennessee.

The Levi Fowler family resided in Livingston County, Missouri, for some time. In 1848, the family is said to have migrated by covered wagon to Gonzales County, Texas. Although census records for this family appear to be elusive, they appear to have lived in other Texas counties as well (McLennan County in 1860, and possibly Johnson County, Texas, since they were buried there).

Note: Dinelah's name may appear spelled in other ways. It appeared as "Dinelah" on her grave stone and on the death record of a son, Levi.
